

U.S. Heavy Trucks market (Class8) – February 2019 sales

Torino, march 26, 2019

The US heavy truck market (class 8) continues to rise: in February + 19% on February last year.

According to preliminary data from Ward's Automotive with 19,858 units, sales of Class 8 vehicles in February decreased by 1.7% compared to January, but grew by 19% compared to February last year. In the cumulative of the first two months of the year sales rose by 28.6%, with 40,050 units. Orders in February rose by 5% compared to January to 16900 units, 58% less than in February last year. According to analysts this is not a concern because the fleets have already placed their orders throughout the year.

Alongside the ranking at the end of 2018 of the market shares of the most important brands of heavy trucks present in the USA.

The total number of industrial vehicles sold in February, between medium and heavy classes, amounted to 36,765 units, 6.9% more than in February last year when 34,377 units were sold.
